Key Rating Drivers

Strong financial health of the Sponsor.

The assigned ratings draw comfort from the sound financial health of the parent company, Aitkenstuart. Demonstrating a strong liquidity profile, the sponsor's current ratio has consistently remained above 2.0x during the periods under review. The debt service record has also exhibited historical strength with a Debt Service Coverage Ratio (DSCR) of 1.8x reported in CY22 (CY21: 1.9, CY20: 1.7). Leverage and gearing ratios have also sustained healthy levels between 2020 and 2022. The gearing ratio was reported at 0.2x in CY22 (CY21: 3.1x, CY20: 2.7x), while leverage ratios were recorded at 0.4x (CY21: 0.3, CY20: 0.3). Despite a slight dip in overall financial performance in CY22 due to challenging economic conditions within the country, the overall profile has remained healthy, thereby offering sufficient security to OBS Pharma for its Islamic Syndicate Facility.

Low business risk due to non-cyclical industry dynamics; however, exchange risks persist.

Owing to the non-cyclical characteristics of the sector, which features relatively stable (inelastic) demand, it is anticipated that revenues and profitability within the pharmaceutical industry will remain impervious to economic downturns, although currency fluctuations will persistently influence margins. The sector's sales are supported by an expanding population, and the continuous development of new products for disease treatment. Consequently, sector business risk is deemed to be relatively low. However, regulatory risks, including potential alterations in pricing policies and pronounced devaluation of the rupee (given that a significant portion of raw material is imported) remain a key challenge for the sector.

Albeit concentrated, the acquired product portfolio enjoys a strong competitive position.

The acquired portfolio consists of 12 products, primarily focused on women's health and well-being segment. Among them, Gravibinan (miscarriage prevention), Ciproxin (anti-infective), and Primolut N (ovulation suppression) are the flagship products, each holding a significant market share and enjoying a strong competitive position. Total revenue generated by the acquired portfolio is approximately Rs 5,177 million, with these three products contributing 74% of the total revenue. Hence, signifying high level of concentration risk in the target portfolio, due to its heavy reliance on just three products for overall performance. Nevertheless, these products are well-established brands that command substantial market shares. Gravibinan holds a 99% market share (Market Rank 1), Ciproxin accounts for 12% (Market Rank 2), and Primolut N possesses 98% (Market Rank 1) in their respective markets. However, strong brand equities of these products contribute a measure of confidence to sales stability going-forward.

Strong growth potential.

Revenues of the target products have exhibited growth at a 5-year Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) of 13%, including the COVID years. In CY22, net sales amounting to PKR 5,177mn and a Gross Profit of PKR 2,434mn were recorded by the Company. Given OBS Pharma's expansive distribution network in over 60 cities, management aims to substantially increase the coverage of the acquired portfolio, thereby seizing a larger market share. Currently, the portfolio is being marketed by approximately 160 employees, whereas OBS plans to significantly augment the team size in line with the requirements of the brands, with the aim of achieving an extended reach in marketing and sales efforts. Based on this, management forecasts a net sales growth of ~21% for the soon-to-be-acquired portfolio going forward. Moreover, management expects the women well-being segment to be a major growth opportunity in the pharmaceutical sector, and plans on expanding its reach in this segment by introducing more products in this market.

Achievement of projected plans remains a key rating sensitivity.

OBS's substantially high gearing ratio of 2.26x underscores the significance of accurate and strong performance in the projected financials for its ratings. Ratings are highly reliant on factors such as the Company's finance costs and sales projections, which are susceptible to external influences like interest rate fluctuations and economic pressures impacting the demand for the upcoming acquired products. These factors are important to ensure strong debt servicing ability of the Company. Consequently, the execution and achievement of the Company's projected plan will be a key rating driver for OBS going-forward.
